Disclaimer

Participants have an implied responsibility to use the newly acquired information to enhance patient outcomes and their own professional development. Any procedures or other courses for patient care discussed or suggested in this activity should not be used by participants without review, recommendation, and approval of authorities.

Continuing Education Credits This topic is accredited by Continuing Education Services (CES). CES is accepted for renewal of PTCB, ExCPT & NE-CPhT Certification. However, the state that you are licensed or registered within may require ACPE-accredited CPE, only. It is your responsibility to know state-specific requirements to maintain Pharmacy Technician Certification. Do this by reviewing pharmacy regulation within your state. A Certificate of Completion is awarded after successful completion. Keep the Certificate of Completion for your records as proof of completion in the event of a CPE audit by your certifying body (PTCB, ExCPT, state-specific certifying entity). CPE are not reported to the National Association of Boards of Pharmacy (NABP) CPE Monitor.
